LOCAL COUNCIL

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Local Council of Women was held on Wednesday afternoon in the City Hall. This was the first meeting of the whole Council since the armistice, the Doxology was sung.

The annual report, given by Mrs. Ayres, stated there had been, early in the year, some disposition to disband the Council owing to the pressure of the war, but it had been decided instead, to appoint a sub-executive, which would carry on the work as far as possible without calling the executive together. This sub-executive held five out of the nine business meetings of the year.

Two general meetings of the Council had been held, one to hear Mrs. O. G. Edwards, of Macleod, tell about the Women's Conference called by the Government in March to consider problems connected with war and conservation; the other called at the request of the National Council: a gathering for prayer for the success of our forces during the great spring drive.

The Local Council, by sending a delegate to the Provincial executive meeting in October, were able to take part directly in the consideration of several measures that were being prepared to be submitted to the Government, or that had already been submitted, namely, the Dower Law, the Factory Act, Mothers' Pensions, Equal Parental Rights, placing venereal diseases under the Contagious Diseases Act, the amendment of red light legislation, care of aged and infirm, the establishment of detention houses for women who were confirmed criminals, an industrial home for women or girl offenders who might be rescued, and other matters.

The Council had sent Food Pledge Cards to four neighboring districts. Two hundred and eighty Christmas boxes had been prepared and sent over to our soldiers, sailors and nurses. Five annual reports presented by the various affiliated societies, were as usual very interesting and inspiring.

The President, Mrs. F. W. Galbraith, remarked on the difficulties with which the Council had had to contend during the past year, the many women qualified for service therein being already too busy in other departments; and pointed out how, notwithstanding this, the women of Red Deer had by means of this organization, been able to take part as a whole in (1) a national affair, the service of prayer for our forces, (2) a provincial affair, the legislation at the Provincial Executive meeting, and (3) a local affair, the sending of Christmas boxes to the soldiers.

As extracts from the letters of thanks for the boxes are being published in the papers, they were not read at the meeting.

Extracts were then read from a letter from Mrs. Edwards, Provincial Vice-President, asking for action on the amendments to the Criminal Code affecting women and children, which was to come before the House this session, and on the question of Land Settlement. Prohibition and proved changes in the constitution of the National Council. "To make our protests or requests effective," Mrs. Edwards said, "we need every group of women, no matter how small. As never before do we need the women to organize as a whole so as to act unitedly on all social problems."

The Land Settlement question was referred to the executive which will also look after the prohibition resolution. The following resolutions were passed:

1. Whereas the Red Deer Local Council of Women is of opinion that girls between the ages of 14 and 16 years, of previously chaste character, should have the same protection in all other respects as is now afforded by Section 201 of the Criminal Code of Canada to girls under the age of 14, and that girls between the ages of 16 and 18 years should be granted the same protection as is now afforded to girls between the ages of 14 and 18 years under Section 211 of the Criminal Code of Canada;

Be it therefore resolved that the Red Deer Local Council of Women request the Senators representing Alberta in the Senate of Canada to support the amendments to the Criminal Code affecting women and children which will be brought before them during the present session of Parliament, and that a copy of the above resolutions be sent to each of these honorable gentlemen.

2. Resolved, that the Red Deer Local Council of Women regard uniform representation and uniform fee as essential.

Votes of thanks were passed to the local papers, and to Mr. F. S. Simpson, the auditor.

The President announced that, as there seemed to be some want of comprehension of the plan of the National Council, and its Provincial and Local Councils, she would request the Presidents of the Affiliated Societies to allow her to present the subject to the various societies at their respective meetings.

A short discussion took place as to the benefit derived by a society from its affiliation with a council, also regarding the relation of the National Council of Women of Canada to that of Germany.

Following are the officers for 1919:
Hon. President—Mrs. A. S. Maxwell

A GLIMPSE OF ST. ANDREWS

(1) The Algonquin Hotel at St. Andrew's.
(2) R. C. O'Brien at St. Andrew's.

Nearly everybody knows that golf is first played in Scotland. A veteran devotee of the game, once said that Scotland's greatest contribution towards the welfare of mankind was the royal and ancient game.

St. Andrew's, By the Sea, New Brunswick, called after the patron saint of Scotland, is the home of many families of Scotch descent, and it is appropriate that the spot thus named should be possessed of golf courses as fine as any in the world. It is not exactly known when golf was first played at St. Andrew's, but the Algonquin Club came into existence in 1890. A club was formally established here in 1895, and now St. Andrew's has the reputation of being the "Mecca of Golf." Hundreds of visitors from Canada and the United States flock hither annually and enjoy the glorious sport.

Golf is an invigorating game anywhere, but it is most delightful when played along the sea. At St. Andrew's there are two courses, a nine-hole course 3,600 yards long and an eighteen-hole course 6,000 yards long. Both overlook the sea, and are clad in a firm sward of velvet green. While resting on the course you can enjoy the view of the sea beneath,

The High School registered 102. The Public School pupils were in North Red, 65, in South Red Deer, 312 in Central, and 28 in High School building.

P. S. Inspector Boyce submitted suggestions for proportionate grants from the Department for part-time instruction in special subjects of manual training, etc., where the conditions did not justify the employment of a full-time instructor in a special subject. The Board endorsed the recommendations to the Department.

The Board forwarded cheque for $10, prize given for efficiency in physical instruction and won by Grace E. in Red Deer school district for 1917. This is the second year Miss Rita Smith's room has won this prize. It was decided to publish the auditors report in the papers for the information of the ratepayers.

The Secretary will submit qualifications of Mr. Fowler as Instructor of Coverts to Major McNeil with a view to re-organizing Cadet Corps.

Some minor matters were referred to committees with a view to action or to obtain information for further consideration.

TRANSCONTINENTAL ROAD IS "CANNED"

WINNIPEG DECIDES NOT TO PARTICIPATE IN ANY SUCH SCHEME

Winnipeg, Feb. 12.—Prospects that Winnipeg would participate in the scheme to construct a transcontinental automobile highway from Vancouver to Halifax, via Calgary, vanished today when the city council "canned" the proposal.

City Engineer Breerton's report on the scheme caused the council to take that action. He said one-fourth of the road would be through the northern Ontario wilderness. To keep automobiles in running shape gasoline stations would have to be located at various points, he said.

The scheme was launched by a British Columbia organization and cities across the continent were asked to lend assistance.

THE NEWS' WEEKLY SERMON

CONTRIBUTED

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him. But God hath revealed them unto us by His Spirit.—1 Cor. 13:1-3"

I sent my soul into the invisible. Some say of the after-life to spell; By-and-by, my soul returned to me. And answered "I myself am Heaven and Hell."—Omar Khayyam.

The story is told of an Anglican Bishop that he had been told by a physician that he must have a complete rest and a change of location. He was advised to go to Algeria, but demurred that it was impossible for him to leave the work of his diocese. The doctor, however, was insistent, stating that the Bishop must take his choice between Algeria and Heaven. This argument was sufficient to impress upon his mind the seriousness of his condition and face to face with such an imperative decision, the Bishop replied, "Well, if that's the choice, I will go to Algeria."

This story suggests that to one who has found his true place in life and loves the work he is doing, there is very little in the idea of a future life, which strongly appeals to him. Our interest in life is not other-worldly or morbid and should not be so.

It is quite right that we should be deeply concerned with the issues of life, here and now, and that we should not dissipate our energies in vainly dreaming of future greatness or future reward.

Nevertheless, we should not become so absorbed in the interests of the present world that we should lose sight of our eternal destiny and fail to appreciate the value of a future life, and the effect that a larger hope has in moulding our present ideas and character.

The idea of immortality underlies nearly all our thinking, and has intensified man's fear of punishment or his hope of reward.

In the light of the ethical teaching of today these motives, fear of loss or hope of gain, which have characterized the old-time religion, are seen to be of secondary importance, and the real motive, the desire to attain unto righteousness and true nobility of life is becoming increasingly evident. "To proclaim a gospel which appeals simply to fear and whose salient is mainly a salvation from Hell, is to degrade both the gospel itself and those who listen to it. We do not serve God as we ought, till we do right though God were not." We must hate sin, because of its hatefulness, and love righteousness, because of its own sake. "Thus hath loved rightness and hated iniquity, therefore God, it becomes increasingly evident also that it is more important to think of Heaven as a state of character, rather than as a place of material splendor. A noted American philosopher, upon being informed by one who believed that God governs the world by catastrophe, that the world was coming to an end on a certain day, replied "Very well, I can get along without it." What a man is, is vastly more important than where he is. The heaven of being good is vastly more satisfactory than any eternal condition which may surround us, however fair our visions and dreams may picture the home of the soul to be.

I do not deny that the outward conditions of the heavenly world are to be desired, but it is more important to think of Heaven as a state of character, rather than as a place of material splendor. A noted American philosopher, upon being informed by one who believed that God governs the world by catastrophe, that the world was coming to an end on a certain day, replied "Very well, I can get along without it." The heaven of being good is vastly more satisfactory than any eternal condition which may surround us, however fair our visions and dreams may picture the home of the soul to be.

A LAST WORD

Regarding the Municipal Hail Insurance Act

The Municipal Hail Insurance Act to be voted upon by the electors on February 27, was proposed by the old Hail Insurance District and the United Farmers of Alberta. The Act provides for the insurance of hail crops and is a very important one for the farmers of Alberta. It has been approved by the annual convention of the U.F.A., held in Edmonton last month, and by the annual convention of the United Farmers of Alberta, held in Calgary during this month, and deserves the careful consideration of every farmer.

The Act provides that the plan must be approved by the electors of at least forty-five municipal districts before it becomes operative. This means that the Hail Insurance district will be big enough and strong enough to be absolutely safe and sound.

The management of the business will be placed in the hands of a Board of Directors to be elected by the farmers themselves. This Board will have full authority to do everything necessary to carry on the business, and for this purpose, to borrow the money required. The premiums are paid by the farmers. By this plan all crops of grain, under the Act, are automatically insured for $8 per acre. Any farmer who wishes, may, on or before June 15, reduce the insurance to $6 per acre, or he may insure part of his crop at $8, part at $6, and withdraw part of it, or he may withdraw all his land entirely from the operation of the Act and carry no insurance. In this case he will, of course, have no premium to pay and will have nothing whatever to do with the plan until he again wishes to be insured, which he may do at any time.

This plan of insurance was carried during the last five years at an average cost of 2-2/3 per acre. Under the proposed new plan, the hail insurance cost will be reduced to 44 per cent and even better results should be obtained. An average cost of 2-2/3 per acre means that insurance of $4 per acre would cost 31 cents per acre of crop insured, and 48 per acre insurance would cost 45 cents per acre of crop insured.

The proposed plan, therefore, appears to be a very safe and sound one, and practically all the good features of any plan of insurance and at a much less cost and under terms of payment of premium than is obtained under any other plan. As such it is recommended to your serious consideration.

Your obedient servants,

TIE HAIL INSURANCE BOARD.

450,000 FRENCH HOMES DESTROYED BY WAR.

Paris, Feb. 26.—In outlining tonight the difficulties met by the commission on reparations in determining the approximate war losses of any one country, M. Andre Fardieu, one of the French delegates to the peace conference, said that France alone would present a bill for 450,000 houses which have been destroyed. This does not include factories, it was added.

ALBERTA'S DEBT AT END OF YEAR

UNDER SUPPLEMENTARY REVENUE TAX SUM OF $613,269.47 IS COLLECTED.

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 19.—As forecast in The Herald last week figures in the public accounts of the province show that the government has already collected $513,269.47 under the supplementary revenue tax, and that there is still owing from municipalities the sum of $97,328.94, so that the province raised the huge total of $1,600,588.41 by this tax.

These figures bear out the estimate made by the opposition last year, and show that the government would raise at least $1,600,000 by this tax, the government contending that only about $1,000,000 would be raised, and as a specific object of this tax was to raise $800,000 as Alberta's share of the Patriotic fund, but the opposition contending that the raising of a patriotic tax the province was setting in to raise money for general purposes.

The opposition endeavored to show the name of the bill changed to the Patriotic Tax Act in order to confine the government to the specific object of the bill, but were defeated on a division.

WHAT ACCOUNTS SHOW.

The public accounts show that the total revenue of the province for the year, capital and income was $11,028,896.24, and the total expenditure $10,676,941.72.

Capital and revenue totalled $3,568,128.49 and capital expenditure $2,372,825.17. The income revenue of the province is given as $7,600,761.74 collected and $10,667,047.49 outstanding, or a total of $5,267,424.51 while the income expenditure was $2,263,805.55, which gives the province a nominal surplus of $1,223,617.76.

The fact is that there is a cash deficit, however, of $643,044.81, owing to the fact that the province has not yet received the amount of the supplementary revenue tax. Under the heading of income revenue it is disclosed that a total of $535,310.70 was raised in motor license revenue, which figure is the saving here, previously in The Herald, and being practically double the sum that was raised by motor licenses in the preceding year.

Other items of income included Dominion subsidy, $1,999,771.66; succession duties, $204,500.35; corporation taxes, $251,331.13; theatre tax, $106,122; court fees, $102,383.23. Among the items of expenditure are public debt, $1,165,973.51; civil government, $58,725.66; legislation, $134,559.86; administration of justice, $71,057.72; public works, $1,058,762.33; education, $1,187,924.14; agriculture, and statistics, $458,669.22; dairy work, $282,768.19; hospital, charities and public health, $211,819.09; telephones $1,171,687.34; general administration purposes, $111,004.44; municipal affairs, $470,838.91; miscellaneous, including patriotic grants and provincial police, $1,253,104.34; remissions, $76,678; king's privilege, $28,578.19; and other, $1,000,000.00.

Other items of receipts include: Registrar's assurance fund; general fees, including increment tax, $424,000; municipal taxes, $1,171,687.34; education taxes, $1,171,687.34; wild land taxes, $350,451.99; supplementary revenue tax, $613,269.47; telephone, $1,171,687.34.

The public debt at the close of the year 1918 amounted to $1,350,200; the sinking funds amounted to $754,000; making a total liability of $30,746,149.47.

CLAIMS HUDSON

BAY ROUTE NOT GOOD FOR GRAIN

JAS. CARRUTHERS WANTS PORT OF VANCOUVER GIVEN THE PREFERENCE

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 21.—The Hudson Bay route never will become one of the recognized grain exporting routes of Canada, in the opinion of James Carruthers, of Montreal, ex-president of the Canada Steamship Line, and head of the grain exporting firm bearing his name.

"There will be only two recognized outlets for the great bulk of the Canadian grain and Vancouver will be one of these," he said here yesterday. "As far as the Hudson Bay route is concerned, it is not a grain route, but the imagination can't it ever be looked upon as a feasible route for grain."

"The only route for grain to the westward, originating at about Medicine Hat or a point just eastward of there."

"At present Montreal is the recognized grain exporting centre, but this has come as a natural result of its location and its being the only port of the Hudson Bay route. I believe in a short time the railway companies will be compelled to recognize the Hudson Bay route as a grain route, originating at about Medicine Hat or a point just eastward of there."

MESOPOTAMIA SEES GREAT ADVANCE IN LAST TWO YEARS

COUNTRY IS DEVELOPED IN RESPECT OF IRRIGATION AND EDUCATION OF CHILDREN

London, Feb. 21.—Viscount Bryce, in the house of lords yesterday, asked the government for information regarding the present condition of the Asiatic provinces of the Ottoman empire, and what measures had been taken by the allied governments for the protection of the unwarmed Christian population of those provinces.

Lord Curzon, in reply, said that he would endeavor to relieve any anxiety regarding the area covered by the political influence of the allies extended, namely, Mesopotamia, Syria and Palestine.

"In Mesopotamia," he said, "we have now been securely established for over two years. The advance made in that time in the development of that country in respect of irrigation, agriculture, the introduction of agricultural machinery, the education of the children, in fact, in the development of the country from every point of view, has been amazing. More has been done in two years than was done in the five preceding years. The country has gained experience to those Englishmen who go to Mesopotamia to do their share in this great work."

"Syria is being done in Palestine and Syria."

With regard to the outlying forces of the Turkish empire, Armenia, Cilicia, and Asia Minor generally, he could only say that he would not like to prejudice the ultimate decisions of the peace conference. In Armenia, great hardships were being endured by the inhabitants which were intensified by the scarcity of provisions and by lack of means of communication. Missions had been sent out and were doing excellent work, but ardent as were the sympathies of the allies with these people, if they continued upon an arduous, lengthy and costly campaign in Asia Minor, he ventured to think that there would be a good deal of protest.

At present there were in Syria and Palestine more than forty thousand unhappy refugees. In Mesopotamia there were forty thousand Armenians and Nestorians; in Mosul seven thousand and in Transcaucasia up to forty-five thousand. Altogether there were 150,000 refugees being kept from starvation by this country.

NEW, BUT LEGITIMATE PROCEDURE ADOPTED.

Ottawa, Feb. 20.—The government is proceeding with a bill for the connection of the railway statutes over which there was such a heated controversy last session, that the measure failed to pass.

In the senate today, Sir James Lougheed, in introducing the bill, traced this bill, which asserts the right of parliament to take up other business before the speech from the throne, traditionally offered. He believed that this is the first time a measure has been introduced at this stage in the Canadian parliament.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

If the annual meeting of the Board of Trade on Monday night proved nothing else, it proved that at last we have a group of live wires who are sufficiently interested in the welfare of the city to devote a great deal of their time and energy to furthering its interests and activities.

In re-electing the president and secretary, Mr. A. S. Maxwell and Mr. J. R. McClure they showed an appreciation of the past year's work, and did themselves the honor of retaining the right men in the right place. Mr. Welliver's work on behalf of the railway extensions was also well received, and in such capable hands there is no doubt that Red Deer will not be overlooked for not pushing her claims forward. Altogether the work of the Board for the past year shows signs of bearing fruit, and the fact of our having such an organization of men devoted to the city will help along our future prosperity and take care of our interests.

BOLSHEVISM BEATEN.

Mayor Ole Hanson has become famous overnight by his firm handling of the situation in Seattle, where a general strike was declared at the instigation of the Bolsheviks and I.W.W. and other "anarchist" demagogues who had secured control of the labor unions. Mayor Hanson defied the strikers and called on the Governor of the state for troops. They were forthcoming, and the strikers were protected, and the general strike fizzled out. This was the first time on the continent that an effort was made to induce every union man in the city to stop work. The effort was not made to redress any particular grievance, any member of a union was suffering from. It was a thinly veiled effort to displace the rule of law by the rule of the mob; to establish a reign of terror which would make the union leaders the virtual dictators of the city. Mayor Hanson, though noted in the past as a radical, stood firm for the constitution government. The press of the city backed him: public opinion definitely aligned itself against the strikers, and they were ignominiously defeated. Henceforth it is said that the principle of the open shop will prevail along the waterfront, where the trouble started.

Mayor Hanson laid down the principles that he adhered to in the following memorable words: "The labor unions must now cleanse themselves of their anarchistic element or the labor unions must fail. They are on trial before the people of this country. I take the position that our duty as citizens stands ahead of the demands of any organization on the face of the earth. The union men, the business men, the churchmen, man who owes a higher allegiance to any organization than he does to the government should send to Federal prison or be deported." There is as much need in Canada as in the United States for the labor unions to cleanse themselves from the anarchistic element. Bolshevism can never prevail in this country, nor in any single community in this country. Unions that permit themselves to be identified with anarchy or to be led by men who are virtual anarchists are heading straight for disaster.

IS REPREHENSIBLE.

The Calgary Herald rises to remark that:

"Investigation into the cost of managing the wild lands tax department of the provincial government under the direction of Hon. Wilfrid Garfield, disclosed the fact that practically all the assessors, inspectors and clerks of the department were bunched in the constituencies of Beaver River and St. Paul. DeMott during the month of May and up to June 7 of the year 1917. There was a provincial election campaign on just at that time and Hon. Mr. Garfield was the candidate in Beaver River. Immediately following the election the flock of department officials went elsewhere and the work of the wild lands tax there was left again to the resident inspector."

It will be remembered that we had an election in Red Deer some time recently also, and not only department officials, but nearly every member of the government as well as their charming constituents. Not only was the Garfield company here, but companies, battalions, yea, brigades of other gentry were here, until the constituency was a veritable sea of peacocks. And yet it was all done to defeat a man who had always been a Liberal, was a Liberal, and is a Liberal, and who was not pushing his claims forward. If Mr. Garfield should be censured, then all the other members of the government should be censured also.

We are informed by Lord Curzon that Mesopotamia has advanced more in two years under British supervision than in the past five hundred years under the Turks. Could there be a greater testimony to the splendid British spirit of fair play, of uplift of nations, of government? The laws that govern the British Empire, that also govern the Anglo-Saxon race will eventually govern the world, because they are founded on the three great laws of the universe, of fear of God, honor for his name, and a love of the brotherhood of mankind.

BANKS OF FLOWERS IN TRIBUTE TO LAURIER.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—"I went with him to parliament for forty five years, and I won't be reproached for having deserted him on his last occasion," was Lady Laurier's pathetic utterance on preparing to accompany the remains of her late husband to their place of lying in state.

Surrounded by the sombre magnificence of purple and black draperies and great candles lit by members of both sides of the house, the remains of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier now lie in solemn state in the rotunda of the parliament building.

On every side are flowers, sent as tributes to the memory of one of Canada's greatest statesmen and her oldest parliamentarian. At the foot of the casket stands a great wreath of flowers, sent by the governor general. At the head is a pillow of flowers bearing the single word, "Laurier."

The chamber bears a very different aspect from the usual one. The rows of seats and desks have given place to lines of wreaths, palms and ferns, and in the centre upon a black draped table stand the casket and the casket containing the remains of the late Laurier arrived at the house of commons chamber at 6 o'clock this evening.

ONTARIO WANTS WIDOWED MOTHERS GIVEN ALLOWANCE

Toronto, Feb. 21.—That the people of Ontario are of the firm conviction that in the interests of the state and the future generations of the province widowed mothers ought to receive an allowance for the care of their children was clearly shown by the large gathering at the public hearing on the subject of "Allowances for Widowed Mothers," heard by Dr. W. A. Riddell, superintendent of the trades and labor branch of the Ontario government in the parliament buildings Wednesday. It is thought that the Ontario government at the coming session will pass a law providing an organization and funds to prevent needy children being deprived of satisfactory home life and care.

EULOGIES IN LEGISLATURE TO THE LATE SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

Brilliant eulogies of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier were delivered in the legislature Thursday on the passage of resolution expressing sympathy in the death of the noted Liberal chieftain, both members of the government and the opposition speaking.

All of the speakers drew, especially on the stainless personal and public life of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in defending his beliefs, and the enormous influence his life has had and will have in the future on the young generation of Canadians.

Premier Stewart spoke of Sir Wilfrid's genial disposition and the fact that Canada could ill afford to lose, in these momentous times, the statesman of his inspiration, and quoted Premier Borden's tribute to Sir Wilfrid. He emphasized the fact that one of the outstanding things about the late chieftain was the fact that he was never guilty of making charges which are so familiar in politics.

Mr. Ewing recalled Sir Wilfrid's long service in public life and said it would be hard to think of the public life of Canada without him. He had planned to select for his will the word for ever on the highest pinnacle of Canadian greatness, and the outstanding thing in his memory was Sir Wilfrid's more than 70 years in public life, and for more than 70 years in private life he wore the white flower of un-questioned integrity.

Hon. Mr. MacKay recalled especially the courageous stand taken by Sir Wilfrid for Liberalism in Quebec when liberalism was most unpopular, even in the face of the hierarchy of his own church which characterized him as one of the most courageous men living.

He also referred to the fact that the British Liberal papers, on the occasion of Sir Wilfrid's attendance at the Diamond Jubilee, had characterized him as the largest figure surrounding the board with the other overseas ministers.

He agreed with Mr. Ewing that the influence of his blameless and unpeachable life was one of the greatest inspirations in Canadian history.

BRITISH AIRSHIP KEPT FLYING ONE HUNDRED HOURS.

London, Feb. 21.—During the discussion of the aerial navigation bill in the house of commons today, Major General John B. Seely, parliamentary under-secretary of the ministry of munitions, announced that the greatest test of the machine flying safely by providing a large number of airships, some of them military establishments and some civil. The government, said Seely, would pay the entire cost of the exclusively military airships and would start the movement by providing for the first year, but that it was hoped before long the last-mentioned would become entirely self-supporting.

A British airship, according to Gen. Seely, recently remained in the air for more than one hundred hours. At an average speed of fifty miles an hour, the under-secretary added, the airship must have covered more than five thousand miles. It was possible that the airship could have remained in the air for a year, he added, notwithstanding the fact that it encountered considerable wind.

POSTAL SERVICE BY AEROPLANE IS PRACTICABLE.

ROUTES BEING ESTABLISHED BETWEEN ENGLISH AND FRENCH POINTS

London, Feb. 21.—"Preparations must be made for the day when all British air routes will play a great part in the maintenance of the commercial existence of the British Empire," said Maj.-Gen. Sir Frederick P. Sykes, controller general of civil aviation, in an address before members of Australian and New Zealand Luncheon Club on Thursday. He said that the British government for some time has been studying the possibilities of an air route from Cairo to Australia by way of Karachi, Singapore, and the Dutch Islands.

The establishment of postal service by airplane is practical, he said, and the dominions will undoubtedly have the matter in hand at an early date. Statistics show that for the year 1918 the air mail carried 2,000,000 letters in gold was annually sent to the United Kingdom by Australia.

He said that the government is estimating the enormous gain that would be secured if this bill could be transferred and put into circulation.

ASSASSIN TRIES TO MURDER CLEMENCEAU

Paris, Feb. 20.—Premier Clemenceau, described by Lloyd George as the greatest of modern statesmen, today by an anarchist, Emile Cottin, known as "Milot." Seven shots were fired, three of which struck the premier. One bullet lodged in the muscles of the shoulder, penetrating deeply, but so far as it is at present known, not injuring the spine or penetrating to the lungs. Two bullets, bruising the right hand and arm, while two other bullets are reported to have passed through the premier's clothing.

CLEMENCEAU PLUCKY.

At the time of his attempted assassination, M. Clemenceau had just left his home to drive in a motor car to a conference with Arthur J. Balfour, British secretary for foreign affairs, and Colonel Edward M. House, of the American peace delegation. Though his shoulder was injured, Clemenceau was able to return to his home, where he reassured the members of his household and waved anxious inquiries with:

"It is nothing."

Latest reports from his attendants are to the effect that his condition was not even dangerous, and that he was cheerful throughout the day, despite occasional fits of coughing.

For the present, it has been decided by the surgeons that the extraction of the bullet may not be necessary, and arrangements have been made for the taking of radiographs of the injured parts to the people.

COTTIN'S LAME EXCUSE.

Cottin, whom the police believed to be a somewhat harmless person, as associating with anarchists and aiding in the propaganda of the war, had planned to kill the premier, because M. Clemenceau "was life enemy of humanity, and was preparing for the coming of the new war."

CLEMENCEAU CHEERFUL.

Premier Clemenceau was quite cheerful in spite of occasional fits of coughing. He declared to members of his household that he thought he was his assailant. He was seen him Tuesday evening when entering his home, but the man had slunk away.

BABER CAPTURES ASSASSIN.

Henry Moulin, a barber's assistant, who was the first to see the assassin, described his experience in a "I met running after the murderer," he said, "but as I ran I was greatly puzzled with to do with him. He reached him. But when I saw him flip his revolver away, it gave me courage and I ran faster, closing in on him, I took one good swipe and a couple of kicks before a detective arrived."

KISSED BY THE GIRLS.

Moulin is a strong youth of about 16. He seemed to feel very proud of his photograph. He was surrounded by girls cheered and kissed him for his bravery.

POLICEMAN WOUNDED.

Policeman Gourau, who was wounded on the right arm, was taken to hospital. "The bullet which struck me went through the limousine as I was directly in line with the assassin, who was rushing towards the premier. This was a sure sign that he was not a Frenchman; his whole appearance is like the nihilists who are familiar on the left bank of the Seine."

Paris, Feb. 21.—Premier Clemenceau's condition was satisfactory and unchanged this morning at 4 o'clock. The police were busy all day on the streets, and searched the houses of some 30 members of the communist federation of the department of the Seine. Numerous masses of papers, tracts, circulars and pamphlets were carried off.

Although the result of this work is not as yet known, the police have found documents that are being used by the newspapers that papers seized at the Journal Libre, established the fact that a regular bureau of the communist organization in Paris and that it has important ramifications.

1,000 ALIENS READY FOR DEPORTATION.

Toronto, Feb. 20.—If aliens now in Canada will be admitted to their home countries, and if shipping facilities can be placed at their disposal at Halifax or St. John, it is the intention of the minister of labor, Hon. Gideon Robertson, to arrange land transportation for a few thousand aliens in Southern Ontario who are waiting and are anxious to obtain transportation home. This is the subject of a letter from Hon. Mr. Robertson, read at a meeting of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council tonight.

PERMANENT LEADER OF OPPOSITION IN DOUBT

QUEBEC MEMBERS WILL PROBABLY FROWN ON APPOINTMENT OF FIELDING

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—It will seem like an unfamiliar parliament when it meets Thursday, with Sir Wilfrid Laurier gone and Sir Robert Borden at the peace conference. For 13 years they have faced each other from the front benches. There will be two leaders unfamiliar to guiding parliament and unaccustomed to the rules and customs of the commons. What effect this will have on the session is difficult to predict.

Sir Wilfrid's death will cast a gloom over the session, and may take some of the fight out of the opposition. Sir Wilfrid was almost the whole opposition, and there is no other member to the left of the speaker with the knowledge or experience of the extraordinary ability to pick out the weak spots in legislation. His death may tend to shorten the session.

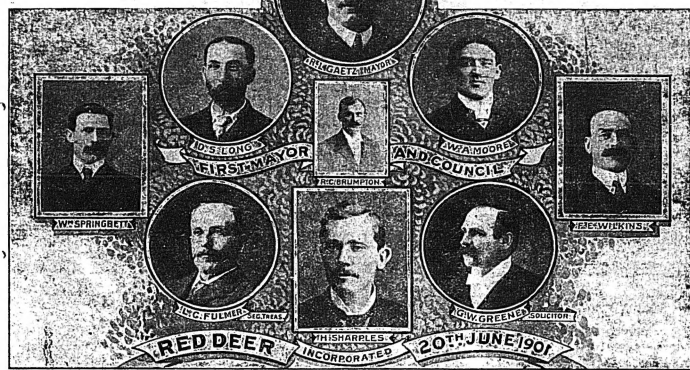

On the other hand, Sir Wilfrid exercised a restraining influence on his followers, and kept in check the hot young bloods from Quebec like Lucien Cannon and Thomas Venn who were always anxious to attack Ontario.

MUDDLED SITUATION

The passing of the veteran statesman, combined with the absence of Sir Robert and the possibility of his going to Washington, makes a muddled political situation still more muddled. It is utterly impossible to predict what will happen or what effect the sudden and dramatic death of Sir Wilfrid will have upon the future of the government or the opposition. A caucus of the opposition has been called by James Robb, chief whip, for next week, when the situation will be discussed, and a leader for the session selected by a committee appointed to take charge with a chairman, possibly Mr. Robb himself. There is a suggestion that Hon. W. S. Fielding will be the choice, but as he was elected as a Liberal-Unionist and did not attend any opposition caucus last year, it is said that the Quebec members who form three-fourths of the opposition will object. The question of a permanent opposition leader will not be decided for some time, and will probably be left until the national convention of the party which Sir Wilfrid had proposed to call this summer is held.

Red Deer's

First Council

This convention will still be summoned, according to the Liberal leaders.

MARTIN A POSSIBILITY

Hon. Wm. Martin, premier of Saskatchewan, seems to be the favorite choice, although Ottawa politicians who sat in the house with him, while admitting his attractive personality and his political sagacity, refuse to admit that he has the ability or the qualities to make a leader of a national party.

Parliament may adjourn from Thursday until Tuesday. This will be done in order to give the opposition an opportunity to hold a caucus of senate and house leaders.

BELFAST STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

Belfast, Feb. 19.—The general strike in Belfast, which began nearly a month ago, ended today with the return of the remaining 3,000 hosiery makers to work on the employers' terms laid down by the employers. These terms give the workers a forty-seven hour week, pending a national settlement of the controversy.

EXPENSES FOR TRAVEL GREATER THAN SALARIES

HOWARD CRAWFORD ASKS PERPETUOUS QUESTIONS IN REGARD TO WILD LANDS BRANCH.

Edmonton, Feb. 19.—That inspectors and men temporarily employed as such in the wild lands tax branch of the department of municipalities sometimes had part of their salaries paid under the head of travelling expenses was one of the points brought out in the public accounts committee this morning, by Howard Crawford, member for South Edmonton, in questioning John Perrie, deputy minister of municipalities.

It appears that the expenditures of the wild lands tax branch here in 1917 were $37,410, of which $15,024 was for salaries, $21,338 for travelling expenses, and $48 for sundries. Mr. Crawford was asking the travelling expenses question in great detail, eliciting from the deputy minister that sometimes vouchers for such expenses were not O.K. by him, but by the former minister, Hon. Wilfrid Garfield. Likewise many of the vouchers turned in by the men were merely for jump cases without setting forth in just what form the travelling expenses were incurred.

Hon. A. G. Mackay, the present minister of municipalities, brought out the point that it was not customary for the assessors and inspectors to make a note of each little expenditure, and that the "travelling expenses" covered substance also.

The question of the numerous changes in the personnel of the department was also gone into at length, there having been thirty-one employees dismissed or quit the department, and forty-nine new ones engaged between January and August of 1918. Mr. Perrie contended that this was not an unusual number in proportion to the increased staff for the year. The names of a number of the employees who quit or were let out, were dragged into the enquiry. In each case where a worker was dismissed Mr. Perrie stood steadily behind his former chief, Mr. Garfield, by declaring that it was because of lack of efficiency on the part of the employee.

BOOT-LEGGERS OFFERS POLICEMAN $5,000

Superintendent of Provincial Police Makes Report to House at Edmonton—Enormous Profits Are Made by "Moonshiners"—Many Crimes Against Women.

Edmonton, Feb. 19.—That a provincial police constable stationed on the international boundary was offered $5,000 by bootleggers if he would absent himself for two days from his detachment is one of the interesting statements made by Supt. W. C. Bryan at the provincial house today, in the report tabled in the house today.

"The temptations which have been offered to our men working along the border have been very great," says the report, notably Reg. No. 60, Constable Smith, A.E. stationed at Coates, who was offered $5,000 to send himself from his detachment for two days.

The superintendent, Mr. Bryan, pays a high compliment to the constable of the men under such circumstances.

The superintendent says that as Montana has now gone dry the liquor brought in from there in the future will be very little. In his opinion, most of the liquor sold in the province of Alberta is sold legally through the drug stores. There is a considerable quantity of this liquor, adds the superintendent, and it is the drug stores that are doing the bulk of the business.

The superintendent adds that liquor handled by the drug stores is in government sealed packages, sold at government fixed prices, "thus curbing the large profits at present made, and precluding the possibility of tampering with the liquor."

The report denounces the making of liquor illegally in the province, saying it is of the vilest kind. One of the latest stills called to the attention of the police consisted of a radiator of an automobile.

Referring to the enormous profits made by "bootleggers" and "moonshiners," the superintendent says: "A few days ago I was shown by one of our operators a bottle of 'Hennessy's Three Star brandy' made locally which cost $1.50 to make and sold for $15 a bottle."

LITTLE TROUBLE WITH ALIENS
The superintendent states that little trouble has been experienced with alien enemies in the province. The total reporting to the outpost were 131 Germans, 141 Austrians and one Turk. They voluntarily paid in $1,551.18 as subscriptions to the Red Cross.

The report says that during the influenza epidemic the men enlisted as doctors, nurses, undertakers and grave-diggers, and the work was done unselfishly and with an utter disregard of the danger they incurred to themselves. Extracts are given from reports to show the difficult conditions under which the men worked.

The conduct of the men was good, the report goes on to say, only four constables being dismissed for misconduct, three of them for being mixed up with bootleggers and one for allowing a prisoner to escape, while one desertion occurred when a constable "got linked up with a customs official in a whiskey deal."

STRENGTH OF FORCE.
On December 31st last, the total strength of the force was seven officers, 148 non-commissioned officers and men, and 54 horses.

The crime statistics given in the report have already largely been published, through having been cited by Hon. J. R. Boyle, attorney general, in his remarks in the house on the enforcement of the liquor law.

A recital of the general crimes committed in the province during the year is given with records of the convictions, prosecutions, etc. It is remarked that there were a large number of offences against the liquor law, and twenty-eight cases being listed, but great difficulty is found in obtaining convictions owing to lack of corroborative evidence.

The majority of such offences have been committed by foreigners, it is stated.

WHY KITCHENER NEVER MARRIED

It appears that after all there was a love romance in the life of Lord Kitchener, the details of which are now made public, for what reason it is not quite clear. Why the great soldier never married, was for a long time a common topic of gossip, and at various times his name was coupled with that of some famous beauty, now an American girl, now an Irish woman whose father's principles were supposed to be the only obstacle to the union. Others asserted that Kitchener was a woman hater. The home recently inspired, Miss Marjorie Benton Cooke to write a remarkably impudent story of the love which Kitchener was supposed to have kindled in the wife of a member of the War Cabinet, who happened to be also a German spy. To Kitchener's Josephine bearing in this adventure the authoress attributed his death on the Hamphire. The real story of Kitchener's heart affair disposes of all the various legends that his aloofness from women's society has given rise to.

THE WOMAN FOUND

Miss Caroline Hutchison was the object of his affections, and the fact has been known for some years to those most intimate with Kitchener. Miss Hutchison is said to have exercised a powerful influence over him than any other man or woman. He was never too busy to think of her comfort, to write her notes, or to pay state visits when they were in the city together. In her he found an inspiration for his patriotism, and it is said that on only one occasion did she seek to dissuade him from the path of duty. This was when he told her that he was about to visit Russia. Miss Hutchison said that she had a presentiment that she would not see him again, and begged him not to go. Kitchener replied that he was going. "I do not know," she said, "but I cannot ignore so plain a duty. After the destruction of the Hamphire," Miss Hutchison refused to believe that her hero was dead, and the belief that he was somewhere a prisoner in Germany sustained her until her own death some time later.

BOY AND GIRL

Kitchener and Miss Hutchison met when they were boy and girl, he two or three years the older. The Kitchener family lived in Kensington and their nearest neighbors were Mrs. Robinson and Miss Lucy Hutchison, two sisters, ladies of wealth and distinction, who made their home together. Mrs. Robinson was a widow, and her only son had died when he was a teen. Young Kitchener was about the same age as the lad whose death had almost broken the mother's heart, and Mrs. Robinson and her sister came to entertain a great affection for the young soldier. Their home became a sacred home to him, and the two sisters like mothers. Miss Caroline Hutchison was a niece of these ladies. She was born at Peterhead on Desade, her father being Alexander Hutchison, a gentleman of independent means. Miss Hutchison was a beautiful Scotch girl, as intelligent as she was charming, and her aunts eventually persuaded her parents to permit Caroline to make her home with them. They decided to let all their property, the value of which was very great.

TWO DISASTERS

It was in Mrs. Robinson's home that Kitchener and Miss Hutchison became acquainted. They were pale and confident before they were lovers, and indeed the record does not say that they ever were betrothed, although their eventual union was never doubted by the friends who knew them both. It happened however, that Mrs. Robinson brought home a neglected child who died of the whooping cough and contracted the disease. To people of middle years the whooping cough is a most dangerous malady and Mrs. Robinson became an invalid for life. Some of her organs having become completely paralyzed. Her mind, too, became affected, and she would not do anything that was not given her by her young niece. It soon became apparent that as long as Mrs. Robinson should live, her niece must be her chief nurse. Not long afterward the other sister was thrown from her horse and received spinal injuries which made her a bed-ridden cripple for the rest of her life.

DEVOTED TO WAR CHARITIES

The doors had closed upon Caroline Hutchison. Her duty was to remain with her helpless aunts as long as they lived. Her career was cut in Egypt and India and in other parts of the world. It was impossible in the circumstances that they should marry; equally impossible because of their deep affection, that they should choose other mates.

And this was why Kitchener lived and died a bachelor. In later years, when Miss Hutchison was freed from the care of her aunts and inherited their property she was noted for her philanthropies, and became the founder of the "K. of K. Empire Association," which did noble service in the war. When she died, a couple of years ago, it was found that most of her great fortune had been bequeathed in charities, and particularly to the various causes given birth to by the war. Shortly before Kitchener set forth on his last voyage he was greeted by Miss Hutchison should destroy the letters he had written her, numbering several hundred, all of which she had lovingly preserved. This was done, and half a dozen only survive as sad memorials of a great love and a great sorrow greatly borne.

MORE SOCIAL LIFE NEEDED ON FARMS

INCREASE ATTRACTIONS AND KEEP BOYS ON LAND, URGES DR. CREELMAN.

Chatham, Feb. 12.—The annual show of the Ontario Corn Growers' Association was formally opened to the public at the armory this afternoon. An inspection of the magnificent display of corn and grain which is on exhibition fails to reveal any indications that the growers of southwestern Ontario had anything but a most successful year.

Judging was in progress as the growers viewed the display, but only the general classes open to Ontario had been judged up to this evening. Full credit for carrying on under difficulties and providing the province with the needed seed was given to the corn men this afternoon by Dr. G. C. Creelman, Commissioner of Agriculture, who presided at a meeting in St. Andrew's Hall. Another speaker was Professor L. C. Barnett, of the Iowa State College of Agriculture, who the corn men found to be a man with valuable practical ideas.

Dr. Creelman had something to say in connection with the betterment of social conditions in the rural sections. "If we are going to keep our young people on the farms," he said, "you must first serve them. You can't expect a young person of 14 to make a business of it. There is a lot of fun in the rural life, but it is not, I don't believe it would be a bad thing to revive some of the other fun we used to have. I want you to encourage clubs in the schools, to encourage light the lights and have something there every night. Let them debate things and you will have better young farmers."

Speaking of the eradication of weeds and insects, Dr. Creelman pointed out the advantage it would be to have agriculture clubs in the schools. "As long as the farmers are contented to take a little girl teacher just out of Normal," he said, "just as long will there be a lot of weeds and insects they are getting. I think I would risk a good many extra dollars to have the children instructed in agriculture because it is a child's nature that they should be instructed in it and not when they get older." He urged production of more and better live stock. Professor Barnett's remarks on valuable points in the matter of selecting corn for seed and organization for distribution. He gave credit to the corn organizations. "The corn conventions," he said, "have raised the standard of our seed considerably, and they have increased the yield an average of three bushels an acre all over our corn country."

The Government display of agricultural products includes an interesting exhibit of flax capped with the statement, "Canada's supply of binder twine can be manufactured from the flax of the prairies." Samples of the flax show it in various stages of manufacture from straw to linen, from straw to linen bond, and from threshed straw to flax fibre felt.

NORTH DAKOTA SENATOR SPEAKS OUT HIS MIND

"We are endeavoring to secure a League of Nations to maintain the peace of the world and to prevent another such holocaust of blood and devastation as we have just witnessed. This country, therefore, should throw down any attempt by any propaganda to create a feeling of distrust or animosity among those nations whose life blood has congealed to free the world from the greatest evil that has ever threatened it."

"We speak of this war as our war. We pride ourselves on the part we have taken to defend civilization, to establish an international doctrine and policy the principle that might does not make right. If that be true, if this war has been our war, if our cause was a just cause, then we are proud to admit that France and Great Britain fought our war for us; that their sons died the dying; that their people did the suffering; that their ships and their sailors fed the billows of the ocean for long years before we even got into our war. With a population of 105,000,000, our losses in our expeditionary forces up to November 11, 1918, were about 56,000. With a population of about one-third of ours, France lost in killed alone considerably more than 1,000,000 men, and Great Britain, with about the same population as France, nearly 1,000,000 men. Their losses were many hundreds of times greater than ours."

"For three years before our entry into the conflict we fattened on the misfortunes of those two great allies. They were compelled to purchase from us at whatever figures we saw fit to charge, and we were not modest in our demands. Those nations came out of this war faint and bleeding. We are yet strong and vigorous. If any people, therefore, were ever obligated to do anything for a mighty ally, it is rendered, that obligation to rest upon the people of the United States, and the duty of reciprocal good-will upon our American conscience."

"Is not the very least we can do for them, in return for their sufferings, their privations, and their brave endurance, to extend to them the hand of good-will, yes, and of any just assistance in lifting the mighty load of indebtedness which will bear heavily upon their shoulders and those of their children's children for many generations?"

War to Peace

Make The Returning Soldier Welcome

THIS is an important hour for Canada. The nation is entering on a new era. It is passing from war to peace. Let us start this new era right. There are thousands of soldiers returning from overseas. The Government is doing all in its power to get these men back to civil life.

It is giving a War Service Gratuity—more than any other nation—to keep the soldier going till he gets a job.

It teaches a man a new trade when his service unfits him for his former trade.

It gives him free medical treatment when illness recurs, and supplies free artificial limbs and surgical appliances.

It is bringing back to Canada at the public expense the soldiers' dependents now overseas.

But the Government, however willing, cannot provide the personal touch needed in this work of repatriation. That must be given by the people themselves.

The men who went from these parts to fight in Flanders deserve a real welcome home—the best we can give.

In most towns committees of citizens have already been organized to meet the soldiers and their dependents at the station, to provide hot meals, supply automobiles, afford temporary accommodation when necessary.

In addition, many other towns are organizing social gatherings to give public welcome to returned men after they have been home a few days.

The Repatriation Committee

OTTAWA

The fighting job is done. It has cost many a heart-burning. But it has been well done. The least we can do is to show our appreciation in no uncertain manner.

Don't let the welcome die away with the cheers.

When You are in Need of An Ambulance

PLEASE REMEMBER THESE FACTS

We have had years of experience in ambulance work, and are familiar with both city and country service.

Our ambulance is always ready to respond to any call at a moments notice.

We are prepared to do any distance where the roads are at all passable, and as our ambulance is a six cylinder McLaughlin we are enabled to travel over roads where a less powerful car could not go.

The fact that this car has six cylinders, thus making it more powerful and smoothly operated, does away with the constant changing of gears while travelling over grades or heavy roads, causing no annoyance to the patient, and providing an extremely comfortable means of conveyance.

We maintain the FIRST and ONLY ambulance between Calgary and Edmonton affording the City of Red Deer and the complete surrounding district constant service from and to one of the best and largest hospitals on the line.

Our ambulance is sanitary in every respect, as we change our stretcher linen for every call. We invite your inspection at any time.

We are at the service of the public either day or night, as we devote our time entirely to our ambulance work and profession only.

ATTRACTIONS AT RED DEER FAIR

At an adjourned meeting of the Red Deer Agricultural Society directors at Mr. Welton's office on Saturday afternoon, there were present Mr. Kenny, Vice-President, in the chair; Mr. Gamble, Mr. Horkeland, Mr. Stewart, Mr. Walde, Mr. L. Brown, Mr. Cole, Mr. McPherson, Mr. Tallman, Mr. Coote, Mr. Campbell, Dr. McEwan, Mr. Galbraith, and the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Welton.

Mr. Donald Smith, on behalf of the family, thanked the directors for their expression of sympathy in the death of his brother, the late S. I. Smith.

Accounts of Gaetz-Cornett Co. $11.50, and C. L. Walde, straw, $11.50, were referred to the chairman of the Committee interested, to be paid when certified.

Mr. Kenny read the agreement between the Society and the Bernard Great Exposition shows, providing for the grandstand and midway attractions. The Society pays $225 for three days' service of the Bell-Thayer brothers in acrobatic act and comedy feature, of the Okuras (Japs) in a risky act and slack wire act, and Uncle Hiram and Aunt Lucinda Birdseed, comic. The midway comprises tent shows—circus sideshow, athletic show, California Cabaret, Hawaiian show, Motordrome, "Over the Top," Palace of Arts, Annual Show, Musical Comedy, The Terrors of the Ocean, and three rides—3-horse abreast carry-us-along, roller coaster and Whip. The Bernard people will provide an advertising car and a band of fourteen pieces. They pay the Society 15 per cent of their takings. The contract was drawn up by the Western Fair Association and is uniform for all the fairs; it places the fairs in a much better position. Both contracts were authorized by the meeting.

The Sloan auto races were rather favored by Mr. Kenny for the Wednesday, July 16, but several of the directors were in favor of horse races this year. No information had yet been procured as to aeroplanes.

It was finally resolved that the Attractions committee—Messrs. Kenny, governor; Welliver and Campbell—bring down a suggested programme for discussion at the monthly meeting on Saturday, March 1.

The Western Canada Fair Association enclosed $50, refund of 50 per cent of 1919 fee. The surplus was being distributed to the different members.

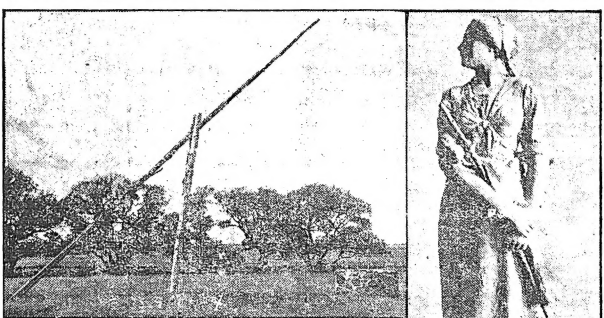

Adequate prizes for children's live stock classes, similar to those of last year, were approved, and the detailed list will be considered at a subsequent meeting.

WARNING AGAINST POOR SEED

Some farmers in districts with seed out shortage may be inclined to purchase ordinary commercial grades for their seed supply without first having representative samples tested for purity and germination. Many apparently good-looking samples of oats are very low in germination this season. The use of oats for seed that is foul with wild oats and other noxious weed seeds is a very serious matter on new and clean lands. The use of feed grades containing oats that are frozen or otherwise unsound should also be guarded against to prevent crop failure through poor germination.

Farmers requiring seed grain may safeguard themselves by sending a three or four ounce sample for purity and germination tests to a Dominion Seed Laboratory. Manitoba and Saskatchewan samples are tested at Winnipeg; Alberta and British Columbia samples at Calgary. Samples require postage but will be tested free of charge up to twenty-five in number for one person or firm.

Evangeline Returns to Grand Pre

WHAT lover of poetry has not dreamed of visiting the places made immortal in song? And what song has roused this longing more intensely than the story of the gentle Acadians and their Great Banishment? Many have realized this ambition for North America has never reached and each succeeding summer sees more hundreds making the pilgrimage to

"The Acadian land, on the shores of the Basin of Minas, the little village of Grand Pre."

There they find the meadows, dikes and orchards of which Longfellow sang, and they try to retrace the action of the poem by using as a guide the still remaining well which the poet described as

"Farther down, on the slope of the hill, was the well with its moss-

THE USE OF HOT-BEDS AND COLD FRAMES

A hot bed is desirable wherever vegetable and flowers are grown in Canada. It is a means by which plants are grown through their earlier stages in a suitable temperature in order to shorten the time of reaching condition for use or of coming into flower. It is the early vegetables which are the most profitable and most appreciated. Furthermore, with a hot bed it is possible to mature certain vegetables in parts of Canada where, if started in the open, they would not ripen before being killed by frost. Again, with a hot bed it is possible to mature a large crop when without one the crop would be very small. Certain vegetables also, even if not subjected to actual frost, will not grow if the soil and air are cold, hence must be started in warm soil and warm air such as is afforded by a hot bed, and the plants grown there are not set out in the open until warm weather.

Such crops as radish, lettuce, spinach, carrots, and other vegetables which will reach marketable size in a relatively short season are easily handled while the weather is still cool in early spring, reach the stage when they are ready for use much sooner when kept in a hot bed or cold frame than if one had to wait until the seed were planted in the open and the plants developed there. There is usually greater danger from keeping the hot bed too hot for these particular vegetables than from its being too cool. Cauliflower also can be grown to maturity in hot beds, and in places where it is difficult, owing to summer frosts or cool weather, to grow cabbages and melons, a few plants in a hot bed will provide a fair supply for the family.

In making a hot bed the conservation of the heat in it is one of the chief considerations, and to assist in this the hot bed should be in a protected place, preferably on the south side of a building, wall or close board fence where the cold winds will be broken and all the sunshine possible be obtained. The manure used should be hot when it is put in, and it should be kept hot by thoroughly banking the outside of the frame with manure to prevent the cold getting in and the heat getting out. It is easier to conserve heat in a bed that is kept down than one that is built high up.

Cold frames are much like hot beds in outward appearance, but no manure is put inside, as cold frames are used later in the spring than the hot beds and less heat is needed, there being sufficient from the sun shining through the glass, and the glass and frame usually afford sufficient protection from light frosts at night should there be such.

Details in regard to making hot beds will be found in a pamphlet which can be obtained free on application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

TESTING GOOD FAITH OF THE ENEMY

SUPREME WAR COUNCIL ASKS GERMANY TO FURNISH MILITARY INFORMATION.

Paris, Feb. 11.—The supreme war council met at the war office at 11 o'clock this morning for the purpose of reaching a final determination of the terms of the German armistice. There were present, in addition to President Wilson and the foreign ministers of the great powers, Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Haig, Marshal Petain, General Pershing and General Diaz.

A full agreement on the terms was presented in the report from the sub-committee embracing military and economic members. The report was unanimous, including the adherence of the Austro-Hungarian, Italian, Turkish, H. Blass and Norman Davis, which indicates that economic measures figure in the new terms equally with military measures.

The report must be approved by the supreme war council before it becomes effective. The German authorities have been asked to furnish information confirming the amount of the war material, cannon, ships and other equipment. This question came up in the recent sessions of the war council, when the extent of this war material was advanced as a reason for taking effective measures against the renewal of warlike activities.

Before determining on any such step, it was considered desirable to request information both as a memorandum of the subject, and as testing the good faith of the enemy in disclosing the status of his military equipment.

Although no official communication was issued after the meeting, the Havas Agency understands that the council decided first to place Germany in a military situation where it would be impossible to recommence hostilities.

It is pointed out that the enemy countries are preserving war material permitting them to equip very early an army of at least 3,000,000 men.

The council decided, secondly, according to Havas, to make Germany realize that we are the conquerors and that it is not a "white peace" that we are seeking to impose on her.

In case Germany submits with grace, continues Havas, it is possible that the Entente would facilitate the resumption of the Entente's work of peace for the benefit of Germany. The council also had to examine the demand by the Poles that a clause be introduced into the armistice that agricultural machinery stolen by the enemy should be restored.

The council's programme also contained question of effectives, and the raising of the blockade concerning Turkey and Bulgaria.

R. J. C. STEAD LEAVES G.P.R. FOR GOVERNMENT POST.

Announcement has been made by the Civil Service Commission that Robert J. C. Stead, of Calgary, is appointed publicity agent for the department of immigration and colonization when they are ready for use much sooner when kept in a hot bed or cold frame than if one had to wait until the seed were planted in the open and the plants developed there.

Mr. Stead has for some years had charge of publicity for the land colonization interests of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Stead has intimate knowledge of the resources and needs of Western Canada, having lived on the prairie of Manitoba in the early eighties and been connected with some phase of western life ever since. He has been connected with the C.P.R. for six years, and aside from his publicity activities is widely known as a Western Canadian writer, his latest novel, "The Cow Puncher," having been among last season's best sellers.

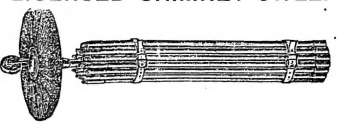

You notice the size of the cake of Gold Soap when the grocer hands it to you. It is the biggest as well as the best cake of laundry soap for the money. You can't doubt it is bigger when you hold it in your own hand. You will not doubt that it is better when you use it. So remember the name, and ask for it.
